AGAINST THE BOYCOTT.

BUSINESS-MEN'S MEETING.

Employees by Arbitration, &c., &c. Sænger Hall was packed at half-past 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The stage was crowded; men standing lined the walls of the room, and from the upper door down to the sidewalk was a jam of people that for a time effectually barred access or egress. The occasion was a business-men's meeting called to receive the report of a committee which had been previously appointed at an informal gathering of business-men to confer with the representatives of the Typographical Union and the Knights of Labor. The audience was a fairly representative one. While merchants, manufacturers, and professional men were probably in the majority, there were numbers of mechanics, clerks and other laboring men present. Here employers and employees had met to consider the recent labor troubles in this city, and to take such action as would likely restore and maintain good feeling between all the classes in the

ORGANIZATION.

Mr. E. D. Taylor called the meeting to order, and an organization was effected by the election of Col. Lucien L. Bass (president of the Board of Aldermen) as chairman; the representatives of the press as secretaries, an the following as vice-presidents: P. A. Sublett, Everett Waddy, Robert S. Bosher, W. J. Johnson, D. S. Mc-Carthy, E. H. Chalkly, George T. King, Hugh Blair, Abran. Gunst, and C. W. Antrim-10 in all.

Colonel Bass, upon taking the chair, expressed his thanks for the honor conferred, and said that he would not oc-cupy the time of the meeting in any explanations of the purposes for which they were gathered, as that was pretty well understood by all; but that he would say: "With such a body of representative men in anything they un dertook there could be no such word as fail." [Great applause.]

EX-GOVERNOR CAMERON. Some gentleman remarked that Governor Cameron was in the hall and he moved that he be invited to the stage. The Chairman said that he would take that as the sense of the meeting, and he named a committee to escort the ex-Governor to the stage, which act was greeted with great applause. Governor Cameron kept his seat on the stage for about an hour, and then left he hall by the stage door.

Then the Judge said that he had called his committee together and requested of them to be relieved, and was again refused. Thus situated, he determined to go to work; he could not be derelict to any call made upon him by the people of this community. The first they resolved to do was to open communication with the Boycott Committee. After considerable inquiry, they learned that at the head of it was Mr. W. H. Mullen. Of the seven men on the Business-Men's Committee, all born or raised here, not one of them knew Mr. Mullen. liere was a cause working in our midst, and the head of it was not known to one of the seven. However, Judge Christian stated (as our readers already know) that the committee opened correspondence with Mr. Mullen, and as a consequence the Knights of Labor and the Typographical Union appointed committees. The conferrees met at the Chamber of Commerce. The agreement they entered into has been published. (It was that the boycott against Baughman should continue; the circular issued against Baughman's patrons should be with-drawn; and all the parties, if their action was ratified by their constituent hodies, should appeal to the General Assembly for legislation requiring the settlement of disputes between employers and employees by arbitration.] As a result of that conference Judge Chris-

JUDGE CHRISTIAN'S COMMENTS. Judge Christian read the resolutions one by one and commented on them. He held that this boycotting was a conspiracy punishable by the laws of the land, and he read authorities to sustain himself, and enlarging upon the excesses that such proceedings might en-gender said: "A free people who would stand that sort of doings don't deserve to be free. [Applause.] As to the legislation asked, Mr. Carter, who represented the Knights of Labor in that conference meeting, said arbi-tiation was one of the planks in their platform, and that several States in this Union and in England such laws had been passed.

"Mr. Carter" said Judge Christian, "showed himself to be a gentleman; showed that he wanted to represent the true interests of the community. made a manly, sensible speech, and produced a fine impression. When Mr. Carter mentioned arbitration and mentioned that several States had adopted it and that it was practicable I said I was sure our committee would accept it and go to the Legislature. So it was agreed upon. There was but one dissenting voice-Mr. Mullen's." [Mr. Mullen is one of the editors and proprietors of the Labor Herald.

When the arbitration resolution was proposed Judge Christian said he ask-

But since then Mr. Howard had received a different impression of the object of the meeting, but "I thought that entertaining the views I did, it might not only be my right, but my duty, to express those views," and so Mr. Howard yesterday evening "took his pen and drew some resolutions" which are in happy accord with Judge Christian's, but he believed were far more comprehensive in scope. and he begged that the meeting would hear them before passing upon Judge Christian's. Mr. Howard then read his resolutions, setting forth the rights of capital and of labor, and closing as favored compromise and concession as far as each side could honestly yield

A young man on the floor claimed the attention of the Chair, and began to speak. "Take the stand!" "Take the stand !" came from a hundred lips. Colonel Bass invited him to the stage, and he came forward, saying: "I am not a millionaire; perhaps they don't want me up there." [Laughter.] He was recognized by the Chair as Mr. Lee, and, while he said that he was not a Knight of Labor, he at once championed the cause of the workingman. "It is hard to be called a brigand, a coward, and a criminal," and he oplasses would catch more flies than
